Bahrain - The Meeting Place for the Gulf's Oil and Gas Industry

As global demand for oil and gas continues to rise, the Gulf's vast reserves are set to be the focus of the international energy industry and global economic stability for the foreseeable future. Bahrain is perfectly positioned at the heart of this important region and is the ideal meeting place for technology buyers and suppliers. Saudi Aramco's headquarters in the Eastern Province of Saudi Arabia is only a short drive away over the King Fahad causeway, and the GCC states of Qatar, Oman, Kuwait and UAE are all within a one hour flight. Famed since ancient times for its hospitality, today Bahrain's vibrant international business community, relaxed atmosphere, first class hotels and restaurants combine with its strategic location to make it the best place to do business in the Gulf.

The Exhibition

Inaugurated in 1979, the exhibition is the most established showcase of oil and gas products and services in the Middle East, attracting NOCs, IOCs and major operating companies. Regular high profile international exhibitors include Baker Hughes, ExxonMobil, Halliburton, Schlumberger and Weatherford amongst others in addition to smaller specialist suppliers, distributors and numerous new entries to the Middle East market.

MEOS is also privileged to receive the full support of all 6 GCC national oil companies:

- Abu Dhabi National Oil Company (ADNOC)
- Bahrain Petroleum Company (BAPCO)
- Kuwait Petroleum Corporation (KPC)
- Petroleum Development Oman (PDO)
- Qatar Petroleum (QP)
- Saudi Arabian Oil Company (Saudi Aramco)

This support involves:

- Showcase stands at the exhibition, highlighting activities in the region.
- Implementation of major visitor and delegate programmes from within their own organisations.
- Participation on the conference committee, ensuring that the programme maintains its excellent technical focus, with special relevance to the Middle East.
- Presentation of papers within the conference programme itself.

The Conference

Of paramount importance to the continuing success of MEOS is its Middle East focused conference programme. Organised by the Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE), the MEOS conference has evolved into the largest and best attended technical event of its kind in the Gulf. By providing high quality presentations focused on Middle East issues, the quality of delegates is exceptional and unique.

The SPE has unrivalled experience in organising petroleum conferences around the world. At MEOS their skills are matched with unequivocal support from the region's national and international oil companies. This support, in tandem with participation from suppliers of products and services to the region, has maintained MEOS' position as the best petroleum conference in the region.
